Mrs. W. H. Ferguson Asks For Inquest

With the Richmond Tule marsh murder of Mrs. Bessie Ferguson nearly obliterated from the minds of the public after five weeks with hardly a clue that might lead to the murderer, Mrs. W. H. Ferguson of Oakland, mother of the murdered woman is preparing to ask authorities to hold an inquest into her daughter's death, according to word received here.

The announcement brought forth definitely for the first time that the Oakland branch of the Ku Klux Klan has initiated a searching inquiry into the facts surrounding the crime. It has been known for some time that Klansmen interviewed members of the Ferguson family but it was declared yesterday that active participation in the murder probe has been undertaken by the organization.

If the request for an inquest is granted the old question of whether the murder was committed in Contra Costa or Alameda county will again arise. No direct evidence has been found but Professor E. O. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist has declared earth found in the woman's clothing discovered at the Richmond marsh showed it had been buried on Bay Farm Island in Alameda.

FORMER LOCAL MAN VICTIM OF THUGS IN L. A.

After being listed among the missing for over eight months, Walter Von Hoefler, former superintendent of the Pacific Sanitary works of Richmond, has been returned to his family in Los Angeles.

He was found in New Orleans, suffering from a fractured skull inflicted by thugs, who after beating him robbed him of $2800 in cash and a $10,000 certified check and put him on a boat for New Orleans. He was taken in and cared for by a friendly doctor. Identification was finally made through the Burns detective agency.

Von Hoefler disappeared early last January upon returning to Los Angeles after a New Year's Day visit with Mrs. E. G. Sargent of the Central hotel here. Hastings Sargent of this city and Mrs. Van Hoefler were in the machine when the latter remarked that he wished to deposit the check and the $2800 in cash in his office a week after his disappearance in the warehouse district of Los Angeles. It was at first thought that Von Hoefler had absconded with the money he had in his possession.

Mrs. Earl Laurey and baby daughter, Caroline, have returned to the family home on Fifth street from the Richmond Maternity hospital.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?

Children have been back in school only a short time. The routine of enrollment in new classes is over. They have picked up the task of getting an education where they left it last June.

What is an education? The parent, looking back on his own school days and glancing at the array of new text books at the opening of the school year, is inclined to wonder. How much he learned has been of no practical use to him? How much, on the other hand, gathered out of school during those impressionable years has been of benefit?

"If I had only known what I was going to do," he is inclined to say, "how much better I might have equipped myself for it."

But certain things do not depart. The ability to study, once acquired, is not quickly lost. Specific knowledge goes if it is now used more or less constantly, but the power to dig into a subject, to gather its essentials and apply them practically, need never go if the student will keep his brain processes in good working order by practice.

Part of what every child learns is his ability to study, to make his memory work for him, to put his brain into harness. Another part is a broad survey of the world as it is, some of its sciences, a little of its historical and literary traditions. He learns that he is a social being, that he is the heir to a vast heritage of thought, and that life is not simply a span of three score years and ten but a continuity of mental lives. Plato, Shakespeare, Goethe—these are but stepping stones by which the thought of mankind has crossed and is still crossing to what unknown heights.

Education is worthless if it is viewed simply as a means to personal advancement. It should not rest at equipping the individual for a competitive existence. It fails in anything but a narrow and selfish purpose if it does not early rouse the child's mind to a sense of the solidarity of humanity in this continuous intellectual life inherited from the ages. More than that, it should persuade him to take a part in it, to add his quota to the heaped up treasures for his children and his children's children to inherit.

The American public school is perhaps man's highest effort so far to make a reality of human solidarity. It recognizes no classes, no divisions based on economic or social prestige. The humblest and the highest may meet here and be friends. How much the public school has done outside of its curriculum in fostering those sturdy standards of democracy and free opportunity of which the hope of America, and the world, is based no one can say.

Education might be more direct and more efficient if each pupil knew in advance just what he was going to do, to what station in life he was to be called. But part of the adventure of our American life is that no one knows this. The boy whose pants are patched at the knee may be president of the republic a few decades from now. Vocational guidance is bound to have its limitations.

But every boy and girl knows one destiny which awaits him: He is going to be a citizen in a free land. He is going to have to learn to live and work and play with his fellows. He is going to be a part in a great social mechanism designed to carry humanity farther ahead on its path. And so, perhaps, the best thing he learns at school is how to get along with his fellows, how to cooperate with them, how to make the puny individual effort mighty by combining it with numberless other puny efforts. That is what America is giving to the world: a lesson in its great public schools of the essential solidarity of human existence.

A whole lot of attention is being paid to coal for a matter that is neither here nor there.

Modern girls are accomplished in the use of the needle. They know how to put it in the phonograph.

Even in This Day of Abbreviated Skirts the Long Skirt is Sometimes Seen and Trains Are Seen On Several New Evening Frocks.

BEFORE Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt left France in the late summer—before the sudden death of Mr. Reginald Vanderbilt, her husband—she caused considerable comment among those who go about looking for new and interesting fashions because of the very long skirts that she frequently wore. Often her very slender young figure was shown to charming effect by the close-fitting rather long corseage, from which hung rather full skirts, long enough to touch the ground. Some one commented that on such occasions she looked like "some medieval saint in a glass window."

There are other women of fashion who occasionally appear in long skirts—and they invariably cause more comment that the women who go to the other extreme and wear skirts of the shortest.

A sort of compromise between the very short skirt and the long skirt is affected occasionally this autumn by skirts that are very short at one place and trailing at another. These trained frocks depart from all the trained skirt twenty years ago. Then trains had to be exactly in the middle of the back and quite symmetrical and the rest of the skirt had to be floor length. To wear a trained frock that rose even two inches from the floor in front was dreadfully dowdy. It was one of the things that fashion just wouldn't put up with.

One simple way of making the up-to-date train is by means of a wide sash allowed to hang long enough on side to trail the floor. Sometimes this trailing sash is gathered to a point at its lower edge and weighted down with a tulle or silk or metal tassel. Sometimes the end is left square and bordered with a panel of heavy velvet flowers in a shade darker than the frock.

Another interesting variety of the up-to-date train hangs directly down the back of an otherwise short-skirted frock—the train hanging down from just beneath the bustle puff at the back. A French frock of mauve and gold brocade velvet has a bustle and train of deep plum color.

Let us rejoice in the fact that thus far trains have appeared only on evening frocks and rather elaborate negligees.

AN INTERESTING GAME

A GOOD way to effect economy in your food bills and at the same time make sure of securing a varied and adequate diet is to take a market list for a week drawn up by an expert and then contrive to turn it into interesting meals for those seven days. In a little pamphlet issued in war days there are several weekly market lists tried and tested. Each one is figured for the necessary amount of provisions for a week by "average man doing moderately hard physical work." There are three lists—a very cheap one which contains many cereals because these are the cheapest foods with just enough fruit and vegetables and a second a little more varied and more expensive and a third with more fruits and vegetables.

Suppose—since we no longer need to carry on war-time frugality—we take on the third list. Multiply it by the number of persons in your family to feed and then set to work to plan your weekly meals accordingly. Here is this third list:

Seven pounds apples, berries, cherries, grapes, melons, pears, peaches, plums, rhubarb; etc.; one-quarter pound prunes, raisins, dates, figs; five and one-half pounds asparagus, celery, corn cucumber, lettuce and (other vegetables); six pounds potatoes, sweet potatoes; two and one-half quarts milk; one-half pound cheese; three and one-half pounds eggs; fish, meat, legumes, three pounds bread; one-half pounds flour; one and one-quarter pounds macaroni, rice, oatmeal, etc.; one syrup, honey; one and one-quarter pounds butter cooking fat, cream, etc.; one-half to three-quarters pound coffee or tea; flavoring, etc.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Mannerling, the country club party in celebration of his twenty-first birthday having ended, is accompanying Diane Bledsoe and another couple to Calkin's Inn for more dancing. He is doing this in spite of the tears of Margaret Patterson, who is to lose with him. Theo Saturn is too sleepy to drive the car safely and Bob takes his place at the wheel, with Diane at his side, constantly imploring him to "Drive faster, step on it."

"Don't," objected Bob sharply as he gripped the wheel anew to meet their fresh onrush. As if beset by a demon of recklessness Diane laughed wildly and pressed again and again upon the accelerator until the car was leaping through the night at a terrific pace.

"Diane, stop it," protested Bob sharply, and when she still persisted, "If you want to drive—drive."

There followed a moment of confusion and startled cries from the half asleep passengers on the back seat as the car swerved suddenly, as if uncontrolled.

Then, like a mad thing unloosed, it rushed onward faster, ever faster—rushed onward amidst the excited cries of its occupants, careless of a motorcycle policeman hanging doggedly on its trail, heedless of a crossroads before it and of a distant honk which came down the breeze.

In the flash of a second brakes screeched, a roadster seemed to leap out of the darkness into the glare of their lights. There was a glimpse of a woman, white faced and horrified, staring at them. Shriek, frightened screams pierced the night. Then, crash.

"Oh, yes, sir, I was in the car, but I wasn't driving."

In that second ruin was wrought. The boasted mechanical achievements of man became a tangled mass of wreckage. Aye, and there was human wreckage, too, perhaps, for from that shattered pile came groans and faint cries, while blood—human blood—ran forth to form a red pool upon the black surface of the roadway.

Straight towards this horror came the Mannerling car, bearing Eileen and Marjorie. Disturbed though she was by Bob's unceremonious desertion of Marjorie for Diane Bledsoe and the doubtful joys of Calkin's Inn, Eileen had found some crumbs of comfort. It might be no more than a sweet heart's quarrel, a passing outbreak, to be healed by the sweet balm of forgiveness. The trip to Calkin's Inn, a flash of waywardness for which Bob would promptly repent, Eileen thought she knew her Bob and, knowing him, was reassured.

To such a conclusion had her thoughts led, when suddenly the car slowed, then stopped. "There is trouble ahead, ma'am. The road is blocked, and I can't get through," reported James, the chauffeur.

"Walk ahead and find out what it is, please, James. And hurry," she added with a premonition of trouble.

He moved off, but was back in a few moments, his countenance very grave.

"There has been a bad wreck, ma'am. Mr. Saturn's car was in the crash. I recognized it as soon as I saw it."

Marjorie gave a cry of alarm; but, shaken by dread as she was, Eileen managed to speak.

"So you said," interrupted the sergeant dryly. "Too bad you got so tired—things might have been different. You are quite sure you hadn't been drinking any bad hooch, are you—to make you so tired?"

Theo looked shocked, also even more flustered than before.

"Drinking? Oh, no, sir. I never, that is, er—I hardly ever—"

Red-Blooded Romance At The Richmond

Red-blooded romance and drama can best describe "As Man Desires" the first National feature which opened last night at the Richmond theatre.

"As Man Desires" is a drama with action and much. In the role of Captain John Craig, a British army surgeon stationed in India, Milton Sills is a characterization such as we like to see him. He is well cast as the embittered soldier who, falsely accused of murder, flees to the South Sea Islands to hide and to forget.

Co-featured with him is Viola Dana, in a most charming and acceptable part, that of a bewitching and flirtatious native dancing girl. Raging inwardly at his past love experiences, the hunted soldier marries the island girl, as a gesture of contempt toward all womanhood. Then come complications. A government agent arrives at the island and immediately is stricken with appendicitis. He is taken to the former medico's home, where the latter learns from papers in the man's pocket that his errand has to do with the murder with which he is charged.

A most dramatic moment comes when the agent is put under ether and the doctor is forced to make his decision whether to allow the man to die and thus retain his freedom or let him live and thus give himself up to a firing squad.

The cast includes Ruth Clifford, Rosemary Theby, Paul Nicholson, Lou Payne, Hector Sarno, Anna May Walthall, Edith Ttemus and Frank Leigh.

Other features in clude "Fares Please," an Al St. John comedy; "Topics of the Day," "Aesop's Fables"

"Fighting Devils" To Be Sermon Topic Rev. Higginbotham

"Fighting Devils, or One Hundred Per Cent American Citizens" will be the topic of a talk to be given by Rev. Gideon Higginbotham at a mass meeting to be held next Sunday afternoon in the Lincoln auditorium.

All men and women are invited. Over 300 men were in attendance at the men's meeting held in the Lincoln auditorium Sunday afternoon, when Higginbotham told the story of his life. He related his early years in Missouri as a Baptist minister's son, then to a life of drinking and gambling, and finally to his conversion a number of years ago.

Special music was rendered by a quartet from the Berkeley Baptist Divinity school, composed of Rev. Jesse Smith, Guy Smith, Rev. I. C. Whipple and Rev. Cecil Axworthy. Rev. M. H. Greenlee led community singing, and Rev. C. C. Lindeman gave the invocation.

"FINE CLOTHES" IS PLEASING AT THE CALIFORNIA

"Fine Clothes" which opened at the California theatre last night is human and therefore is entertaining. It is a John M. Stahl production, presented by Louis B. Mayer through First National.

"Fine Clothes" is laid in London. Peter Hungerford, the owner of a haberdashery shop, is the central character around which the chief action of the story revolves. The part is ably played by Percy Marmont, who is well known to local theatre audiences.

Lewis S. Stone and Alma Rubens are cast as importantly as Marmont. The former plays the Earl of Denham and Miss Rubens presents a charming and beautiful Paula.

William V. Mong, Eileen Percy and Raymond Griffin are also in the cast. The story was adapted to the screen by Benjamin Glazer from the play by Franz Molnar. All the elements of life have been brought into this drama, with its many little tragedies and joyful moments as well.

Other features on the same program include O. Henry's story "Shoes," with Marion Harlan as the O. Henry girl; "Topics of the Day," "Aesop's Fables," Larry Canelo at the organ.

"Faith" Is Subject At St. Edmund's

The Sunday morning service at St. Edmund's Episcopal church was conducted by Rev. John Bates of the Episcopal divinity school in San Francisco. His sermon was "Faith." Holy communion was held early in the morning, with the Young People's fellowship meeting at 6 p. m.

Holy communion will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock, today being St. Michael and All Saints day. The Girls Friendly society of the church will meet at 3:30 p. m. this afternoon.

School Carnival Plans Furthered By Committees

Plans for the big carnival which is to be staged on October 23, by the students of Richmond Union high school are developing rapidly. The purpose of the carnival is to secure funds for the purchase of permanent athletic equipment. The football team this year is handicapped by the lack of uniforms and the student body hopes to raise enough money through this affair to buy adequate equipment for all teams.

According to the suggestions that have been turned in it appears as if this year's carnival will be the best in the history of the school. The program will consist of many attractions and varied stunts. Shows will be put on simultaneously in the Assembly hall, band house and gymnasium, and the performances will be repeated in order to give everyone an opportunity to see all attractions.

In the gym there will be a vaudeville show consisting of several new and original acts which will afford thrills and many hearty laughs to all spectators. In the Assembly hall there will be something out of the ordinary. Miss Woodward is in charge of this stunt. A Morris will have charge of the musical show in the band house and this will be one of the big attractions. There will be concessions on the grounds where peanuts, "hot dogs" and soda water will be sold. There will also be a number of minor attractions on the grounds.

Tickets will be on sale this week and everyone is advised to get his admittance slip early in order to see all the shows. Carnivals, which have been given by Richmond high in past years have always been enjoyed by the residents of the city as well as the students. The 1925 carnival promises to be another successful achievement.

The committees for the carnival have been active and the whole affair is now nearly ready for opening. The students are being assisted in their work by Miss Clara McLaurin and Major Ivan Hill. The committees in charge are: Vernon Siple, chairman—Marvin Clark, Monica Freeman, Katherine Wood.

The committees having charge of the Assembly are: Mary Mann, chairman; Richard Crigler, Charlotte Freeman, Frank Diamantini.

The committees working out the stunts for the band house are: Ellsworth Hunt, chairman; Dorothy Clow, Lawrence Ramey, Alice Bagley.

Supervisors Of S. F. Are Given Plans

the support of New York, Boston, Chicago and San Francisco financial men in his venture.

The plans and design for the bridge have been prepared by Joseph B. Strauss of Chicago, one of the foremost bridge engineers of the world. The entire conception of the idea for the bridge highway means of communication between the three big cities about the bay has been with the purpose of providing a structure that will not interfere in any degree with the harbor and maritime development of San Francisco and Oakland. In accomplishing this, Strauss plans have kept in harmony with both the war department requirements and the lines of commercial harbor expansion that have been formed by the increasing shipping activities between the port of San Francisco and the rest of the world.

The bridge will be known as the Sunshine Transbay Boulevard Bridge. It will be approximately twelve miles long from Seventh and Mission streets in San Francisco to the heart of Oakland and to the center of Alameda. Its width over all will be ninety feet. A roadway of modern concrete highway construction fifty four feet wide will traverse the entire distance of the bridge. Six lanes of automobile traffic will be accommodated.

Strauss has arranged a rapid transit interurban railway system for the bridge which is considered by many a solution of the computer problem affecting the cities of Richmond, Berkeley, Oakland, Alameda and San Francisco. There will be three lines of rapid transit tracks, affording express service over the bay with the means for adequate local service in the cities at either end. It is estimated that the time for transportation between the three cities at the bridge ends will be shortened to twenty one minutes.

On the San Francisco side, the plans provide for an elevated system of the Single Post type which is the modern form of elevated construction now adopted by the large eastern cities.

It is estimated by Birmingham that toll rates upon the bridge will be less than the rates charged at present by the ferry companies both for passenger traffic and automobile travel. In discussing the plans, Birmingham called attention to the fact that the bridge will permit of constant use throughout all the hours of the day and night both for vehicular and train traffic. This will mean an unbroken traffic communication between San Francisco and the cities on the east shore, promoting the comfort and contentment of the people of the bay cities as well as their social and business convenience and stimulating the growth and prosperity of the entire bay region.

Heart Attack Held Cause of Death

Viggo Peter August Paulsen, carpenter of the Steamer Chile, who died on the ship while it was docked at the Eckley grain docks at Martinez, Saturday afternoon, met death as a result of acute dilation of the heart, a corner's jury at Martinez found last night. Coroner C. F. Donnelly was in charge of the inquest.

Police Continue Search For Man Who Shot at Dr.

Police at a late hour last night had found no trace of Douglas McLean, charged by Dr. H. N. Belgun, proprietor of a sanitarium near Alvarado park, with having fired two shots at him yesterday afternoon.

The officers continued late into the night their search for the shooter who has not been seen since he disappeared into the brush which covers the hills back of the sanitarium following the attempt to assassinate Dr. Belgun.

McLellan was once a patient in the sanitarium. Dr. Belgun said, and often worked about the place at odd times. He telephoned the doctor yesterday asking if he could get work. He later came to the sanitarium but there was nothing for him to do.

McLellan went to the barn and set fire to the dry grass, Dr. Belgun charges. When all persons available turned out to fight the fire, McLellan fired two shots at Dr. Belgun with a revolver at a distance of about 50 feet. Both shots went wild.

When word was received at the police department, Captain V. Shirley and Patrolman H. C. Donnelly rushed to the scene of the shooting and advised the proprietor to obtain a warrant for the man's arrest. At least three attacks of the sanitarium witnessed the shooting, Captain Shirley said.

When not near the sanitarium, McLellan lived in San Francisco, but had no permanent place of residence. He is 30 years of age, five feet nine inches tall, of stout build and ruddy complexion. He was wearing a dark grey suit and dark fedora hat when he disappeared into the brush.

Wife Charges Husband With Being Sheik

Charles Davis, an iron moulder of Richmond, is a "lady killer." He admitted it to his wife and confided in her that: "They all fall for me."

Therefore the divorce suit with the above charges filed in Martinez yesterday by Mrs. Gertrude Davis, the wife.

Besides his misfortune of being a "riot with the women" Davis is alleged to have falsely represented to her that he had an $8,000 interest in real estate from which he derived an income of $100 per month. Instead of that the deluded woman found her husband to be a boiler-maker earning $125 monthly. He also is said to have told her he was previously married whereas he was not.

Moreover he unjustly accused her of being a "man killer," claiming she avers, that she had intimacy with men. She also says that he objected to callers at their home and when notified of a visit before hand set the clock ahead. There are no children. Tsar Calfee is attorney for Mrs. Davis.

Pittelli Changes Plea On Charge Made By Girl

After having admitted guilt of a statutory offense against a 14-year-old Crockett girl, Fred Pittelli, Crockett sugar refinery laborer, yesterday sprung a surprise in the Superior Court of Martinez, when he changed his plea to not guilty. His trial was fixed for October 6, by Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado.

At his preliminary hearing several weeks ago Pittelli admitted his guilt rather than face the wrath of the mother of the girl he is alleged to

Old Timers See New Era

Dominick Petty tries out the new scales as John B. Barchfield and C. C. Kelly assist.

The name of John B. Barchfield first appeared on the roster of the Western Electric Company in 1879, when he went to work in the engineering laboratories at New York. The other day Mr. Barchfield was one of eighteen old-timers to visit the new Kearny Works of the company for which they put in a good many score years. Although these veterans are all in retirement under the benefit fund plan of the company, their interest in the expansion and development of the business of which they were so long an active part has not abated.

When the service records were compared, it was found that Dominick Petty, with sixteen years and seven months to his credit, was the baby of the party. Thereupon John B. Barchfield, younger in years but considerably older in Western Electric service—for his record covers forty-one years and three months—proceeded to weigh the baby on the new Kearny Works scales, with the assistance of C. C. Kelly, president of the Kearny Employees' Club, who has twenty-five years' service himself.

ATHENS CLUB TO BE OFFICIALLY OPENED TONIGHT

The Athens Athletic club will open its new building at Twelfth and Clay streets, Oakland, this evening, marking the climax of an effort extending over a period of more than six years. According to club officials the event will be an informal one but will be accompanied by much merriment.

Joseph R. Knowland, president of the club, will make the address of the evening. It will be short and will merely state that the club is open. No formal speeches will take place. Dinner, entertainment and dancing will be the outstanding features of the evening. Knowland will introduce members of the house staff and he will conclude his remarks with a general introduction to the members and guests of the individuals who have been actively identified with the construction of the building and the organization of the club. Dinner will be interspersed with dancing.

The opening of the club will be a gala affair. The festivities will continue throughout the week with a program each evening identical to the preceding one. More than 650 members and guests will participate.

TILDEN, ALONSO FAULT
CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The first annual international team tennis championship of the Western association were won by George Lott and Lucien Williams, Chicago, over Bill Tilden, Philadelphia and Manuel Alonso, Spain, when the latter pair quit on account of darkness halting the deciding match of the day.

JONES TO PLAY HAGEN
CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A match between Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen looms in the offing as a result of the discussion rising from Hagen's sensational play in the professional golfers' tourney here last week. It is said that Jones, amateur champion, has consented to play Hagen at some Florida course during the winter.

DUCKS AT SUISUN
SUISUN, Sept. 28.—The local marshes are swarming with ducks for the first time in many years and hundreds for miles around are busy preparing for the best shoot in some time. Several new preserves have been made this year in the surrounding tule swamps, while those not fortunate enough to be in a preserve will stoil the sloughs in an effort to ensnare the feathered tribe. The swamps near Cordelia are especially favored with food this year.

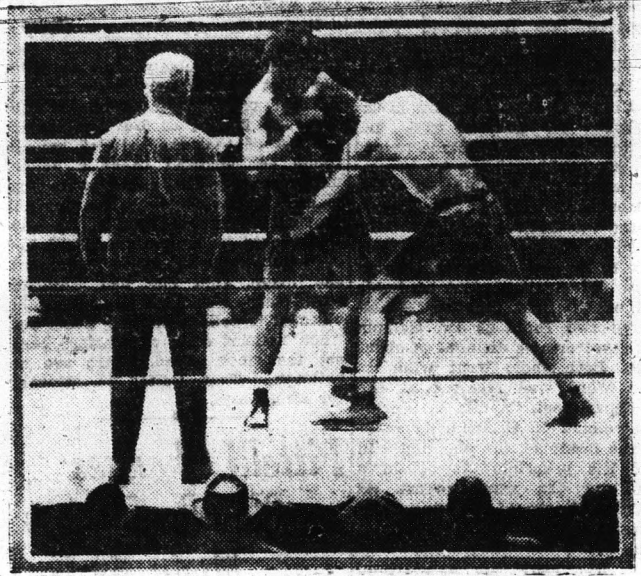

NEW SPEED RECORD
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—A new record has been set for the javelin throw. Jonni Myraa, world's champion, bettered his record by more than eight feet when he tossed the spear 224 feet 11 inches at the Finnish Brotherhood picnic games.

STANFORD SURPRISES
Throughout the United States the defeat of the Cardinals by the Olympic club has surprised fans, as it was the only upset of the opening day. No upsets were looked for as most of the good teams had opposition that was expected to do nothing more than give a good workout. But with the Olympics casting the stain of defeat on Pop Warner's crew the entire country from New York to San Francisco was dumfounded.

HITTERS BATTLE
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Everything is out of the way except the scrap for the hitting honors of the major leagues, especially the American. This Speaker and Ty Cobb veteran port widders, are in a lively tilt between themselves and are waging battle against Hellmann of the Detroit and Simmons of the Athletics, both starboard swingers. Roger Hornsby has clinched the honors of the big leagues with a 400.

With the 25 football season launched and the Bear-Bronco game a matter of history it is time to look over the situation. The Bruins showed their power in this game and look like a team to equal that of the ancient history of 1921. The Olympic club has demonstrated its mettle twice and should play great guns all through the season. St. Mary's has done nothing but give out reports through Louis Le Ferre, business manager, but Slip Madigan should

Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, outpointed Dave Shade, his persistent California challenger, in a hard-fought 15-round battle staged in the Yankee Stadium in New York. Walker had the better of the early rounds, then Shade took the lead, but Walker came back strong in the last two rounds. The photograph shows Shade coming out of his famous crouch to run into one of Mickey's right.

Richards' Tennis Notes

By VINCENT RICHARDS
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1925, By Universal Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Jean Borotra, the "bounding basque" of Biarritz, is the direct medium through which France gained the challenge round this year in the Davis Cup play. The genial Frenchman with his chatty interesting manner on the court very clearly demonstrated that he is to be reckoned with in any company when he defeated James O. Anderson at 6-4, 6-3, 8-6, and Gerald L. Patterson at 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

But the high spot in Borotra's career came in the doubles match between Hawkes and Patterson and Lacoste and himself. Few students of the game believed that the French players had any chance whatsoever in this match yet after two hours and thirty minutes of nerve wrecking playing in which Borotra was mainly responsible they emerged victorious in five sets at 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 1-6, 10-8.

Borotra was really the man who came back in that historic encounter. At the start of the fourth set he was hit by a terrific smash from Patterson's racket that stretched him unconscious for fully fifteen minutes, yet he returned to the court and although out on his feet for the rest of this set he was able to come back and play a very important part in the deciding stanza.

It was a marvelous exhibition of gameness on the part of the French player and one that will live long in the memories of those who saw it. Borotra received little help from his partner in this match. Lacoste, considered Europe's greatest exponent of the net game, has yet to show his real form in this country. He lacks his usual confident air and seems unable to control the balls.

One reason for Borotra's remarkable form during the past month lies in the fact that he has been in the United States for at least three months getting used to the courts, balls, and different climatic conditions. Lacoste, Brugnon and Decugis, his fellow team-mates arrived in this country only in time to participate in the Davis Cup matches which probably accounts for their spotty tennis. In any event these four Frenchmen are responsible for France entering a Davis Cup challenge round for the first time in the history of lawn tennis and as the old saying goes give credit where credit is due.

Fall Kills Former Richmond Resident

NAPA, Sept. 28.—A broken neck, the result of a fall from a grape truck caused the instant death of Antonio Mufich Sr., 70, here Sunday. Mufich was a retired business man and for sixteen years had made his home in Richmond where he engaged in the real estate business. Mufich had been spending several weeks on the John Markowitz ranch near this city. He is survived by three sons, Antonio Jr., of Ukiah and Martin and George Mufich of Napa as well as twelve grandchildren. Turn out a team that will provide lots of fun for the Golden Bear on October 17.

Richmond Club Takes Tuolumne Down Line 7-6

Under the leadership of Elmer Hanson a crew of Standard Oil ball tossers journeyed to Tuolumne where they demonstrated their superiority over the nine of the latter city. It was some demonstration. Skipper Roberts smacked a homer in the ninth with Greathouse on and tied the score. The winning tally came in the tenth when Zimmerman singled scoring O'Rourke who had just smacked a triple. The finale score was 7 to 6.

Heavy hitting by O'Rourke and Roberts, coupled with good pitching by Carl Kamb and good fielding by Peters, Carson and Greathouse won the game.

His banishment has not seriously bothered him, to judge from his broad smile.

Keys Trim Port Costa Tossers

Port Costa ball club went down in defeat Sunday to the Richmond Keys by a score of 6 to 1. Hard hitting in the pinches and consistent pitching by Nemith, who fanned 11 Costans, were responsible for the victory of the locals.

RED CROWN GASOLINE

"The Red Crown Mileage Card sure saves money!"

The Red Crown Mileage Card is more than a card for recording mileage—it's a help to you to get the extra 15 to 30 miles that are always in a tankful of Red Crown gasoline. Here's what one motorist found out:

"The Red Crown Mileage Card sure saves money! My bus consumes only 10 gallons of 'Red Crown' now on a 200 mile run that used to take 13 gallons of gas and even more. I figure I'll save enough in a year on Red Crown gasoline to pay for one tire at least."

Red Crown Mileage Card records prove daily the extra mileage in Red Crown gasoline. Use "Red Crown" always and profit by its extra mileage.

MURDER TRIAL SCHEDULED TO START TODAY

Accuse of having murdered his common-law wife, Frances Zamora, at their Crockett home on August 13, Joe Marcado, 33, former employee at the Selby smelter, will go on trial for his life today before a jury in the court of Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado.

Marcado will be defended by Attorney T. D. Johnson. The prosecution will be handled by Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey. Marcado was arrested at Redding four days after the shooting of his wife which took place following his release from the county jail after serving a sentence on a battery charge preferred by the woman. She charged that Marcado had beaten her and her son.

It was indicated yesterday that Marcado's defense will seek to establish provocation and will claim unfaithfulness and charge a brother with being an interloper in his family.

Rev. Sanborne To Be Installed at Steger Church

Plans for the installation of Rev. H. K. Sanborne as pastor of the Steger Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, October 11, were outlined at a meeting of the San Francisco Presbytery yesterday at the Steger Presbyterian church.

The installation ceremonies will be in charge of Rev. James Falconer of Berkeley, president of the Presbytery. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Warren Landon, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo.

Rev. W. C. Sherman of Berkeley will deliver the charge to the congregation, and Rev. Frank Bancroft of Berkeley will make the charge to the pastor. The installation prayer will be made by Rev. Franklin Rhoda of Fruitvale.

Plans were also discussed yesterday for the evangelistic program of the Presbytery for the next six months. The sermon of the day was delivered by Rev. Joseph Hicks of Los Angeles. Over eighty were in attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Rev. Falconer of Berkeley.

The ladies of the church, headed by Mrs. W. McCarthy, president of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, served a chicken dinner at noon.

at a high rate of speed when the front wheels of his car suddenly went out of alignment. Completely out of control, the machine plunged from the highway and was demolished. The stout top structure of the car was probably all that saved the occupants of the car from serious injury.

VOLLMER HITS SOB SISTERS AT POLICE MEETING

UNIVERSAL SERVICE

STOCKTON, Sept. 28.—Scoring, sobbing, and bitter sentiment in connection with the death-dealing, confirmed criminal, Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley in addressing the annual convention of California peace officers here today urged:

Life imprisonment for confirmed criminals instead of the present indeterminate sentence, with special provision that the convict must not be released until it is positively known that he is safe to be at large.

Segregation of offenders according to type.

Diversified prison system.

Criminal registration similar to the English system, which requires confirmed criminals to keep the police informed concerning their movements when liberty is restored.

Declaring that the confirmed criminal is more dangerous at large than a rattlesnake, Vollmer said:

He may be the producer of heredity and environment. He is a lawless and anti-social creature who constantly, by word and deed, protests against the existing social order and a disturbing element in any civilized community and a constant menace to public peace and safety.

He begs, lies, steals and kills without the slightest feeling of remorse. He is utterly without moral responsibility and will stop at nothing to prevent the law from taking its course when the life and property of another confirmed criminal is at stake.

Statistics compiled by the California State Bureau of Identification prove that one out of every five persons arrested for crime in this State has a previous criminal record. It is not time that the people awake to the seriousness of the situation and demand of their legislators that additional restrictions be placed on criminals who never have had, or never will have respect for law or order?

LOST BOTH ARMS AT AGE 14, STATE TREASURER OF ARKANSAS SIGNS UNIVERSITY BOND FOR $650,000

Sam S. Sloan, State Treasurer of Arkansas, is handicapped by the loss of both arms, resulting from a sawmill accident when he was 14 years old, but he is said to be able

HIT-RUN DRIVER INJURES LOCAL GARAGE WORKER

(By Universal Service)

NAPA, Sept. 28.—Suffering from internal injuries and a compound fracture of the right leg, J. O. Petty, of 2325 Macdonald avenue, Richmond, is confined to the Vallejo General hospital today, the victim of a hit and run driver.

Attaches of the sheriff's office here and police at Vallejo are cooperating in a search through which it is hoped to apprehend the driver responsible for Petty's plight.

Petty was found unconscious and bleeding in a ditch at the side of the Vallejo Napa highway by five sailors of the United States navy who were returning to their station following a trip from the valley. They rushed Petty to the Napa State hospital.

The hit and run driver crashed into Petty's machine and continued on his way without offering any assistance. Petty has been unable to give any information that might lead to the apprehension of the person responsible for his condition. Eyewitnesses to the crash have been discovered, however, and have furnished sufficient information to the sheriff so that an arrest is expected to be made within the next day or two.

Committee On School Bonds Is Encouraged

tory of the bonds in Marin is a good indication of the feeling of the voting public toward the need of improvements and keeping at par those improvements already started.

"It has been declared any number of times and conclusively proven that the failure of this bond issue would mean a backward step for Richmond," Johnston declared yesterday.

"Richmond schools have established a record of which they can well be proud. We must maintain this high standard and the improvements contemplated with the bond issue are the only things that will do it," Johnston continued.

"The general feeling of the public toward the school bonds I believe has been indicated to a great extent by the hearty approval the issue has met at every meeting, where they have been brought up.

"I do not believe that it is too early to predict that the voters of Richmond will take it upon themselves a week from Tuesday to keep our system of education in this section up to its established high standard."

The campaign which has been launched by the committee for the passage of the bonds is being vigorously pushed. Speakers are scheduled to appear practically every meeting between now and the time of the election, October 6.

The latest organizations to give the bonds their whole-hearted support are: The Richmond Merchants' Association, The Pullman P. T. A. and the Stege P. T. A.

The couple separated on February 27, 1921, after being married since 1901. Attorney Tsar Calfee filed the suit for the plaintiff.

derby, description unnecessary, does not return same at once we will cause same a great deal of difficulty. The party is known as we suspect he is the same who tried to get away with the gate tickets from Chief Toreador M. M. Jeff. Said top piece was pilfered while we were inhaling a hot dog. (Signed) C. C. K.

Al Burdick who earned the name of "Spoony" during the preparations for the picnic proved himself a saving grace for he supplied everything "that had been forgotten." This included practically everything from a ladle for the coffee and a fork for the hot dogs to a golf club to go with Harley's 4 Plus.

Fleet footed Kratzer has denied that the chicken he had for (not) dinner Saturday night had anything to do with his winning the speed race.

Winners in the events of the day were as follows:

Emery Moore won the prize, a pocket knife, in an apple ducking contest, besides several dimes in the apples he rescued from a tub of water. Others in the contest were: Robert, Mayer, Wesley Helm, Norman Robinson, Carl Lanphier and Albert Schneider.

The losing team was composed of Louis Garfinkle, O. Muth, Otto R. Ludwig, Dan Tonelli, W. D. Nichols, C. Marcus, E. Marcus and R. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Marcus were declared the winners of a necktie tying contest. A necktie and handkerchief were the prize.

Ray Lilly won the final in an obstacle race. The first heat was between Harry Albert and Cecil Moore and was won by Albert. The second heat between O. Muth and Ray Lilly was won by Lilly, after which Lilly took the final event from Albert.

C. C. Kratzer won the prize, a brown derby, awarded by E. C. Crane, from Otto Ludwig in the fat man's race.

William Beck and Louis Kiraly won the three-legged race from a large field of entrants. Silk socks were the prize.

Miss Madeline Russell won the egg race. Silk hose were the prize. A team composed of O. Muth, L. Kiraly, R. Burk and C. Burk won the boys' relay race. The prizes were cuff links.

The girls' relay race winners were Misses Rosie Lemos, Alice Connors, Lucy Museo and Kathryn Vaughn. Handkerchiefs were the prizes.

Rosie Lemos won the smaller girl's race, a pair of silk hose, and Miss Luella Mitchell won the older girl's race, a box of candy. The small boys' race was won by Gus Bonquet, and the larger boys' race winner was Leno Corazzo. Cuff links were the prize in each event.

The first elimination dance prize went to Mrs. C. G. Stockitt, while William Werner was the winner of the second elimination dance prize.

The attendance prizes went to George Johnston and H. A. Trewella. Dancing was enjoyed in the park pavilion late in the afternoon, with music by D. J. Shaw's orchestra.

Hot dogs, coffee, ice cream, watermelon and other good things to eat were served at noon.

The committee wishes to thank the following: Maxwell coffee house for coffee; Dan Tonelli for watermelons; W. D. Mason for rope used in tug of war; Richard Johnson for tubs; A. C. Burdick for various utensils; Carl Richard for the use of a piano; and J. H. Fitzpatrick as assistant in conducting the dance.

The committees in charge of the affair included the following: Fred LaMoine, general chairman; Harry Albert, attendance; Harley B. Carter, games; E. C. Crane, finance; Ward McCracken, music; C. C. Kratzer, reception; E. Forwick, refreshments; W. G. Mayer, tickets; and J. P. Strom, transportation.
